CANTRILL IS IN RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Seventh District Congressman Announces Candidacy in Strong Card

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 21.—J. Campbell Cantrell, of Georgetown, congressman from the 7th district, made formal announcement of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor here Wednesday night. Mr. Cantrell is the second entrant in the race, Congressman Alben W. Barkley, of Paducah, previously having announced his candidacy.

Expressing himself as favoring a statewide primary to determine the nomination of the Democratic candidate for governor, Mr. Cantrell declared in the statement announcing his candidacy his belief that it "would be political suicide for our party to make the nomination in any other way. Only in a primary election can the women voters of the state give full expression to their political opinions."

In his announcement, Mr. Cantrell pledges himself, if nominated and elected, not to become a candidate for United States Senator during his term of office. The term of the governor elected at the 1923 election will cover the selection of successors to both the present Kentucky senators.

Outlining the platform upon which his bid for the nomination was made, Mr. Cantrell declared his determination for full enforcement of all laws; expressed opposition to the tendency toward "big game" laws; business and private affairs of the citizens; favored construction of highways in every county where they are needed; and pledged equal attention to all sections of the state in this respect.

"If elected," the statement declared, "pardon will be secured for the unfortunate victims of the taking of human life. I will make for a thorough investigation and equitable distribution of taxes and that the bipartisan control of state institutions would not be disturbed, also was incorporated in the formal announcement.

Mr. Cantrell is 52 years of age. He was chairman of the Scott county Democratic Committee from 1895 to 1897; was member of the Kentucky house of representatives from 1897 to 1901; and was state senator from 1901 to 1905.

He was chairman of the joint caucus of the legislature in 1904, in which year he declined a nomination for congress. He was delegate to the Democratic national convention that year. He was elected to congress in 1908 and has served continuously since.

His secretary, Joe Martin, will open campaign headquarters here after Christmas.

CORLISS PALMER QUOTED MILTON

The blind author of "Paradise Lost" had something to do with the sensational love tangle of Corliss Palmer and Eugene V. Brewster, millionaire publisher of a string of movie magazines. The Macan (Ga.) cigar company girl says her life was influenced by these lines found in a book in the Brewster library: "Beauty is nature's coin; but must be hoarded. But must be current, and the good thereof consists in use and not in hoarding."

YOUNGSTER DIES AT UNION CITY

James Lewis Harris, age 41 years, died very suddenly Wednesday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harris, at Union City. He was ill only a few hours. It is said his malady baffled the attending physicians who were unable to diagnose his trouble. His death came as a great shock to his devoted parents, as he was in his usual good health until a few hours before his death. Two small brothers, besides a loving father and mother, are left to mourn his untimely passing. The sympathy of their many friends is extended to them in this dark hour. Brief funeral services will be held at the grave in Richmond cemetery Friday morning at 10:30 by Dr. E. C. McDougle.

BANDITS GET 94 CASES OF WHISKEY

Bardonia, Ky., Dec. 21.—Whisky bandits early today swooped down on the T. W. Samuels distillery at Deatsville in Nelson county, 9 miles from here, and while one squad besieged the three government guards in the distillery office, where bandits kept them under a constant fusillade of shots, another squad broke into the warehouse and got away with a number of cases of whisky estimated as high as 94. They loaded the liquor in automobiles and sped away either toward Shepherdsville or Louisville. The bandits cut the telephone wires and the guards were compelled to walk to Samuels, three miles away, to give the alarm. The first warning the guards had of the raid was when the bandits shot into the office window. The guards dropped to the floor and remained there about an hour, under a constant fusillade. Meanwhile the other bandits cut the locks to the warehouse and removed the liquor.

They heard shots and later viewed the bodies. A clerk in a hardware store testified the crowd came into the store and asked for guns and ammunition. He gave out 18 weapons and 300 rounds of ammunition on a telephone order. He believed the voice that of Willis.

(Associated Press)

De Land, Fla., Dec. 21.—Leu Gem Gong, known internationally as a horticulturist, "president" of a "Chinese Republic" and holder of the Wilder Medal awarded by the U. S. department of agriculture, is at his home here dependent upon the generosity of friends, feeble and broken, with a heavy mortgage on his home, which for many years has been one of the show places of central Florida.

Friends in De Land are supplying his sustenance and have taken charge of his business affairs in the hope of clearing up his debts. Leu resides on his estate with "Fanny," a mare which for twenty years has been his pet and sole companion. He lives virtually the life of a hermit and during the last 16 years has visited De Land, the nearest town, but four times.

Leu has numerous horticultural accomplishments to his credit, but the best known is the Leu Gem Gong orange, perfected in 1887 by crossing the Mediterranean Sweet and Hart's Lane varieties and for which he received the Wilder medal. The tree of this variety will thrive in a climate too cold for others, while the fruit will remain on the tree several years and maintain its maximum amount of juice and flavor.

In 1890 Leu investigated the grapefruit and produced a cross of the common Florida grapefruit and the tri-lobate orange. The fruit is of superior quality and the tree can stand from ten to fifteen degrees lower temperature than ordinary varieties. Leu's last citrus development resulted in the perfumed grapefruit which will permeate a house with an agreeable odor. It is a cross of the pomegranate and grapefruit.

Leu also perfected the cherry currant in Massachusetts, a cross of the ordinary currant and the grape. In other fields he produced an apple that ripened in July, a late peach grown under glass with the fruit ripening in November, a salmon colored raspberry and a tomato plant that grows to a height of fifteen feet.

Leu was born on a farm near Canton, China, in 1859, arrived in San Francisco in March, 1872, and went to New England where he was employed by Solomon Burlingame, of North Adams, Mass. He was adopted by an unmarried daughter of Mr. Burlingame in 1874. Two years later Leu was elected first "president" of the "Chinese Republic," at a meeting under a large chestnut tree in a cow pasture near North Adams, held in connection with the Centennial celebration to commemorate the signing of the Declaration of Independence. R. Chung, one of the members of the movement who met with Leu, was ordered to China with the news and to launch a campaign. Chung died before he reached China and the movement ended here, although some of the principles laid down by Leu are now said to be incorporated in the laws of the present Chinese government.

When Leu's foster mother died the Burlingame property near here was left to him and five per cent of the remainder of the estate. Leu was a man of many talents and a great lover of his country. He was a man of many talents and a great lover of his country. He was a man of many talents and a great lover of his country. He was a man of many talents and a great lover of his country.

WHICH WILL GET MOUNTAIN TRADE?

Building Of "Bosworth Trail" Would Help Madison Offset Clark's Efforts

Pineville, Ky., Dec. 19.—News has just reached here that Clark county on last Thursday voted an additional 20 cent road tax in order that Clark county might connect up with two big road projects. One being the Kyva road, leading through Powell, Wolfe, Perry and Letcher counties. The other is the Kentenwa route, leading through Estill, Lee, Owsley, Clay and Bell counties. It can clearly be seen that Winchester and Clark county have an eye to business, as the construction of two lines (or one road serving the same purpose at least half the way) from Winchester to Powell county and to Estill county will connect up the metropolis of Clark county with a rich and never failing mountain territory.

Beattyville is also beginning to take notice of the advantage that city would have by the construction of the Kentenwa route into the mountains.

On the heels of this undertaking another mountain route is being proposed known as the "Bosworth Trail," leading from Richmond to Middlesboro thru the counties of Jackson, Clay and Bell. Probably more headway has been made on this route than on the former named route, since both Jackson and Clay counties have voted bond issues and the elections were validated by the Court of Appeals on last Friday and the state road department has already voted to accept this project and construct it immediately as far as McKee in Jackson county as soon as Madison takes care of the two and one-half miles over the Big Hill, which has been the barrier for many years between the bluegrass and the mountains. Bell county, of course, feels the importance of these roads and no doubt will do her part in the construction of same.

The sections that will be touched by the "Bosworth Trail" are very rich in many respects and would furnish an abundant supply of raw materials for years to come to the bluegrass sections. Richmond and Madison county would be a strong competitor for the mountain supplies if the Bosworth Trail is constructed and in all probability would be a more direct road from the bluegrass to the south-land than would be the Kentenwa route.

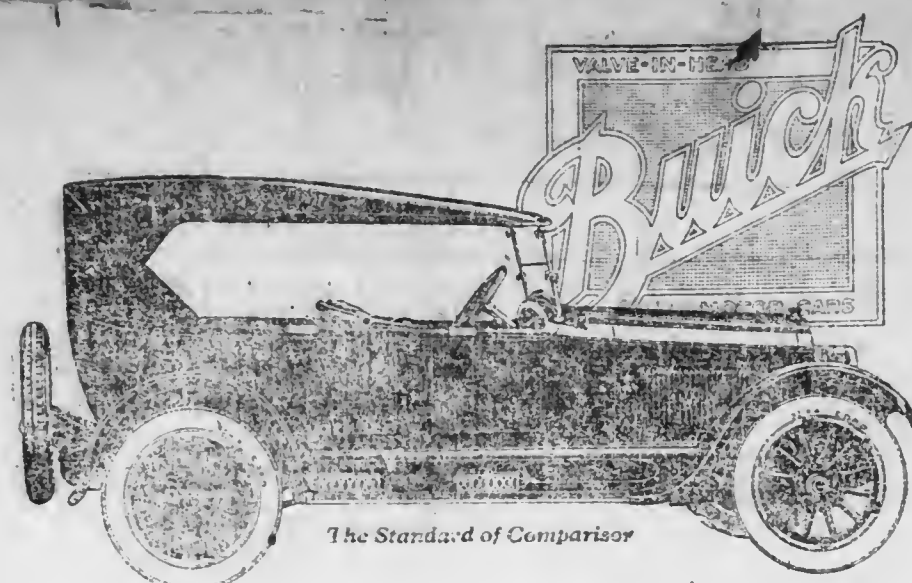

So it is to be seen that both Madison and Clark counties are bidding for the mountain business. Which shall it be? We can not see any reason why both lines can not be constructed and give to all the mountain counties the connection which they deserve and to the bluegrass the opportunity of drawing upon the resources of the mountains for coal, oil, lumber, fruits, etc.

"Fatty" Arbuckle Is Given Another Chance

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 21.—Roscoe Arbuckle, rotund comedian, barred from the screen since last April because of his encounter with the law, today was restored to the privilege of coming back to the place he once occupied in his industry, if he can. Will H. Hays, head of the picture industry, announced that all restrictions against the actor were to end January 1. Joseph Schneck, producer, said he would employ Arbuckle and the latter said he was thankful for the chance to work and would strive to make good. Mr. Hays issued a brief statement, saying he felt every man was entitled to his chance and that the film industry not only wanted to live and let live, but it wanted to live and help, live.

Would Surprise The Old Lady, Sure
A farmer in the cotton belt had a reputation for never wearing good clothes. His wife was continually reproaching him for his negligence. With the maturing of his crop he journeyed to the city with the "first bale." The bale brought ten cents per pound more than he had expected and he decided to surprise the "old lady." He went to a nearby furnishing store and purchased a complete and shining new outfit. Instead of putting them on in the store, he placed them under the wagon seat and began the homeward journey. When about one mile from the farm he stopped by a creek, stepped behind a large clump of shrubbery and proceeded to take off his clothes at the same time throwing them into the creek. They were carried away by the current. Turning to his wagon, naked as Adam, he found that some one had stolen the entire outfit, from shoes to hat. "Giddap, Bill," said he, jumping into the wagon. "Well! surprise the old lady, anyway."

NELSON COUNTY COW CHAMPION

(By Associated Press)
Lexington, Ky., Dec. 21—Oakwood Segis DeKol Johanna, an 8 year old Holstein cow, owned by the Kentucky Holstein Farm, Bardstown, has become the official champion producer of milk and butter among Kentucky cows, according to J. J. Hooper, head of the dairy department of the College of Agriculture.
During the twelve months she was tested under the direction of the college dairy department, she produced 24,907 pounds of milk and 825 pounds of butterfat, or close to the 1,000 pounds of butter. The record has just been verified by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.
The honor which has just been won by the Nelson county cow previously was held for four years by Fairy Lady Sally, a Jersey, owned by the Allen Dale Farm, Shelbyville. She had a record of 822 pounds of butterfat produced in a year.
The new state champion is a good example of what good feed and are will do in boosting the milk and butterfat production of cows, Mr. Hooper, says. During the time that she was making her record, she was under the care of Morris H. Halpern, herdsman at the Kentucky Holstein Farm and a former student in the winter short course in practical agriculture given each year at the college. She was milked four times a day and completed her record at midnight, November 23, immediately after which the figures were sent to the Holstein association to be authenticated. The record that she has made is considered one of the best that has ever been completed in this section of the country.
The new record is some indication of what can be expected from dairy cows, provided they are given good care and fed right, Mrs. Hooper pointed out. At the present time the average cow in the state is producing an average of 2750 pounds of milk and 135 pounds of butterfat a year. This could be increased to at least 2500 pounds of fat a year for more than half the dairy cows in the state if they received care similar to that which was given the new state champion, he says.

BIG HILL

Miss Lucinda Hays has rented a store house from Jeff Settles and we hope she will start a new era and sell goods cheaper.

There was a heavy rain at Big Hill Saturday and Saturday evening and roads are very muddy. The farmers in this vicinity who raised tobacco are hauling it to market. The price of tobacco seems to be good.

The school at Big Hill is preparing a Xmas entertainment to be held Dec. 22. It will begin at 1 o'clock and last until 4. Everybody will be welcome to attend and enjoy the display.

The shooting of game in this vicinity has been heavy this season, as each hunter has returned with a nice lot of game. The demand for coal has been increased by cold weather. The haulers at Big Hill have been very busy delivering coal the past week. Mr. J. A. Hunter is doing a good business selling goods and can furnish anything in groceries at real bargains.

Miss Clay Duncan's school is progressing nicely with a good attendance and giving satisfaction. The work on the pike from the swan. But little sickness the past year and the year 1922 has been a good year, considering the hard times. Christmas is just around the corner. The kids and older ones are expecting Santa Claus to come heavy-laden with presents, believing a prosperous year will help Santa Claus to bring an abundance of good things for old and young. Dick and Levi are ready for another whizzer briar farm. Be careful, Mr. Neighbor, how you price your farm. They have the nerve and the money and are not afraid to spend. Look over their broad acres in a high state of cultivation. It shows what money and industry will do.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite
Recipe of Sage Tea
and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Kinsolving, Shelbyville, Charles Dawson, Frankfort, attorney general, "Enforcing the 1922 Prohibition Law;" and J. C. Its Body Is as Sturdy as Its Chassis

Lasting satisfaction with a closed car depends not only upon the dependability of the chassis but upon the durability of the body.

In the Special Six Sedan, Studebaker offers an admirable co-ordination of these vital requirements.

Stop in at our showroom and see this Sedan. Stand off and get a three-quarter view of it. Note its striking beauty. Step inside and relax in the nine-inch seat cushions. Note the great roominess and the completeness of the equipment.

Take a ride behind its 50-horsepower motor. Try the wheel yourself. Put it to any test—every test. Try its acceleration, speed, power. Ask yourself if you ever handled a car that steers so easily—that responds so satisfactorily with just what you want, when you want it.

The body is a product of Studebaker skill and craftsmanship which have been developed through more than two generations of vehicle building. Highest grade of materials and workmanship have produced a body as beautiful as it is enduring.

This Sedan is a good investment because of the saving in the initial outlay and the moderate cost of maintenance. The price is possible because Studebaker builds three distinct models with only one manufacturing and marketing cost and because middlemen's profits are virtually eliminated.

The name Studebaker stands for stability of body as well as chassis.
